

COUNCIL MEETING CALLED TONIGHT.

Notices Call For Gathering
to Pass an Important Ordinance.

DEALS WITH PAVING MATTERS

Law Covering Collection of Old Bills on Liens Must Be Taken Advantage of at Once if It Is to Apply Here in Connellsville.

An important meeting of Town Council is scheduled this evening although an air of mystery surrounds City Hall and but vague reasons are given for the call. The notices being sent out today by Clerk Bixler read, "to pass an important ordinance," but beyond this the powers that be and those that would be are mum on the subject.

It is learned, however, that the reason for calling the meeting is to take action looking towards the collection of a number of paving bills by means of liens against the properties whose owners are in arrears. The way for the collection of these bills was paved by the last Legislature, which legalized the claims which could not be collected under the old act.

Council has to act on the matter within six months after the passage of the act, which was approved by Governor Edwin S. Stuart on May 3, last. The new liens must be filed by November 1, but Council will take immediate action in order to avoid any hitch in the proceedings.

Just what the nature of the proposed ordinance or resolution is cannot be learned. Attorney E. C. Higbee, who drew up the paper, is out of town, and none of the Councilmen will talk. It is believed action will be taken tonight in order that Council will have time to take further action in case Burgess Evans should happen to veto the resolution. The matter was overlooked until it was brought forcibly to the minds of the Councilmen that the time limit is rapidly drawing to a close.

BANK GUARANTEE LAW WORKS LIKE A CHARM

Big Institution Fails But Depositors
Get Their Money in Full.

United Press Telegram.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 30.—Oklahoma today experienced the first practical working of the new bank deposit guarantee law when 400 depositors of the Columbia Bank & Trust Company, which closed today, withdrew their deposits in full from funds supplied by the State Banking Board.

At no time was there any indication of a run and no demonstration whatever. Bank Examiner Young has issued no statement yet as to the condition of the concern, which is one of the largest banks in the State. The liabilities are about $2,500,000.

The bank carried reserves in numerous State banks, however, and the public is reassured by the State banking law now covering these institutions. Business is going on as usual.

SUIT FOR $1,000.

On Note Against the John Showman Estate.

UNIONTOWN, Sept. 30.—Noah Roley, for the use of J. T. Roley, has entered suit against Jacob Showman, administrator of the estate of John Showman, to recover $1,000 with interest from March 15, 1904.

The suit is to recover on a note which matured on that date and which, the plaintiff claims, has not been paid.

New Nurse at Hospital.

Miss Charles McCarthy of Connellsville is a new nurse at the Cottage State hospital. Miss Catherine Zetser whose resignation as superintendent takes effect today, will leave tomorrow morning for her home at Nescopeck, Pa.

Silk Mill Committee's Report
Likely To Be a Favorable One.

That a favorable report will be submitted to the Chamber of Commerce when it assembles to hear from the investigating committee which visited Allentown and other points is intimated by President Worth Kilpatrick.

Mr. Kilpatrick returned last evening, leaving the other members of the committee, E. R. Floto and F. M. Ritchey, Jr., behind to continue their investigations. Mr. Kilpatrick had to be in Pittsburgh yesterday and for that reason had to leave the other two.

APPEAL FROM FAR EAST FOR CONNELLVILLE GIRLS.

Former Resident Here, Now Successful Plantation Owner,
With 100 Other Americans Seek Life Partners.

Harry J. Venoy, a former Connellsville boy, now a prosperous plantation owner of Mindanao, Philippine Islands, has written The Courier an appeal on behalf of himself and other young Americans in business in the Philippines to American girls to become their life partners in the Far East. Any good American girls will be welcomed and made comfortable and happy as the wives of American planters in the Philippines, but Connellsville girls are preferred, Venoy says. The letter follows:

I have been requested by several young Americans of Camp Overton, Mindanao, P. I., to write you these lines requesting you to aid us in finding some good American girls, preferable from your city, who are looking for husbands and would like to live in the tropics. There are lots of young men over here who are in good circumstances and simply pining away for the love of a good woman from the old U. S. A. to cheer their broken spirits. I can account for at least 100 who would be grateful to you if you could aid us.

I am located on a plantation at Overton. I have 1,000 acres of hemp, coconuts and bananas and also some rubber under cultivation which nets me a real good income. I am in position to care for a wife in every way. I have a nice home with all conveniences and life over here is fine in this land of everlasting sun and summer. I am sure any good woman, especially one from dear old Connellsville, would be happy and contented here.

Now Mr. Editor we are thanking you in advance and all for your assistance and hope you will be successful in assisting us. We also hope your paper will continue on as it has been, a success for a number of years in the great east and west center of the world.

The Courier will be delighted to forward the letters of Connellsville or Fayette county girls to Mr. Venoy and his friends in the Philippines if they care to investigate the matrimonial prospects set forth in the above letter.

SPITTLER'S CONDITION.

Practically No Change Since He Was Admitted to Hospital.

Practically no change has been noticed in the condition of Frank Spittler, who was injured in the Davidson mine of the H. C. Frick Coke Company on Tuesday of last week.

Mr. Spittler's condition is such that he may linger for some time. Today at noon it was stated by the hospital authorities that he seemed to be resting easy and that his condition was about the same as when removed there.

SENTIMENT DIVIDED ON MERGER PLANS

For Consolidation of the Merchants Association With the Chamber of Commerce.

There is little chance that the Merchants' Association will consolidate with the Chamber of Commerce at tonight's meeting. This matter has been discussed among the members and most of them believe that the merchants have nothing in common with the Chamber of Commerce and balk at the suggestion of consolidation.

The Chamber of Commerce, they argue, would not be interested in freight rates, in the collection of bad debts and other matters that are purely of interest to business men.

The members are not opposed to the Chamber of Commerce idea. Most of them are in favor of booming Connellsville by that medium. But there is a large number which believes there is room for two separate organizations.

The election of a secretary will also be taken up. J. Kirk Renner having announced that he is through with the job. There are three applications in the hands of J. J. Gorman which will be submitted for consideration. One man offers to come here for desk room and commission on collections. His application will receive more than passing consideration as he asks no salary.

PAVING PETITION FOR EIGHTH STREET

North of Eighth Street on the West Side Is Being Circulated.
New Sidewalks.

Work on the paving of the sidewalks in Greenwood is rapidly progressing. Pavements have already been laid in front of the residences and work has now been commenced upon the paving of the vacant lots owned by John Egan. Quite an improvement has been made upon the street.

A petition is being circulated, it was stated this morning, for the paving of Eighth street, north of Main.

Met With an Accident.

Dr. G. W. Newcomer met with an accident a few days ago which resulted in a dislocated knee cap. He met with the injury while alighting from a train and will likely be confined to his room for some time.

FATAL FALL OF YOUNG ITALIAN.

Lorenzo Nioso, Janitor at L.
F. Ruth's Apartments,
Loses His Life

AT HOME OF H. L. CARPENTER

Was Engaged Taking Down Awning
From Second Story Window When
He Lost His Hold and Fell Head
Foremost to Pavement Below.

Lorenzo Nioso, a young Italian who for the past five years has been in the employ of L. F. Ruth as janitor of his three apartment buildings on the South Side, including the Colonial theatre, was almost instantly killed yesterday afternoon by falling from a window in the home of H. L. Carpenter.

Nioso was, at the time, engaged in taking down an awning. He frequently did odd jobs around the neighborhood and was always appealed to when there was anything to be done about the South Side homes. It is presumed that he bore too much weight against a screen and tumbled to the roadway below. His head struck against the stone wall, breaking his neck, his jawbone, and fracturing the skull near the base of the brain.

No one saw the accident, but the noise of his fall was heard in the neighborhood. At the Carpenter home and that of O. L. Eaton, just adjoining, members of the household rushed out, but life was extinct. H. O. Keaggy was sent for, and Dr. L. P. McCormick, but Nioso was beyond human aid.

The body was removed to Morris & Company's undertaking establishment and prepared for burial. It will be taken to a house in Baldwin avenue, near the Italian Church, where friends will care for it.

No funeral arrangements have been made as yet. Nioso leaves a brother, his only known relative, who works in the vicinity of Uniontown and efforts are being made to locate him. Until he is found no further arrangements will be made.

Lorenzo, better known to the tenants of the apartments as "Larry," enjoyed the friendship and confidence of those who came in contact with him. He was a tireless and willing worker at all times. During the Colonial theatre fire he was one of the bravest of the fire-fighters, being among the first to reach the scene of the blaze and the last to leave.

SHARPSHOOTER SCORES OF COMPANY D BOYS

Four Men, Including Captain Harry
Dunn Qualify on the Uniontown Range.

Four members of Company D, N. G. P., including Captain Harry Dunn and Lieutenant Keffer qualified as sharpshooters on the rifle range at Uniontown yesterday. Captain H. A. Crow, retired, also qualified except in rapid fire which he still has to shoot. The scores were as follows:

Lieutenant Keffer..... 381
Captain Dunn..... 251
Sergeant Abkemi..... 255
Corporal Frost..... 253

These scores were made on the 600 yard range on slow fire and in skirmish fire from 600 yards to 200.

A 12-car immigrant train went through yesterday on the B. & O.

STRAWN MURPHY'S OFFER FOR SILK MILL SITE.

A. Strawn Murphy of Bulskin township has come forward with an offer of a site for the proposed new Derry silk mill. He writes The Courier:

"I will give 10 acres for a site for the silk mill for the consideration of $5,000. The site is easily accessible both to the P. R. R. and the West Penn, and adjoining Murphy's farm in Bulskin township. The location borders on Mount creek, a stream that would give sufficient water for all steam purposes. The Site Committee is invited to look the land over."

THE ROOSEVELT AT SANDY HOOK.

Peary's Participation in Parade Depends on Place Assigned His Ship.

QUERIES FOR DOCTOR COOK

Commander Gave Out Gist of Some of the Questions That Will Be Fired at the Brooklyn Physician—Crew Will Not Talk Polar Matters.

United Press Telegram.

SANDY HOOK, Sept. 30.—The Roosevelt, Peary's vessel, arrived this morning and dropped anchor at Commander Peary's orders. Captain Bartlett said he expected instructions to participate in the Hudson-Pulton naval parade Friday.

The Roosevelt shows the effects of its hard trip, the sides being badly scarred, dents in the hull being plainly visible. It was greeted by whistles on other ships in the harbor. The crew refuses to discuss polar affairs.

PORTLAND, Maine, Sept. 30.—Commander Peary heard of the arrival of the Roosevelt today and intimated his participation in the naval parade will depend upon the place assigned the Roosevelt. He made public today the gist of the inquiries, through which he expects to put Dr. Cook

The questions are: With what were the Cook sledges loaded so heavily he could not take his instruments to Upernivik? If he carried supplies for three on sea ice going, why could he not carry everything on sledges for himself and his Eskimo returning? What did Whitley do with the flag Cook gave him? Why did Cook blind Whitley and Pritchard to secrecy, yet allowed Captain Adams of the Whaler Morning to divulge Cook's claims to Peary?

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 30.—Evidently assured that the Roosevelt would be given a conspicuous place in the naval parade Commander Peary this afternoon announced that he would go to New York and be on the bridge of the Roosevelt when the Hudson-Pulton parade starts. Mr. Peary will accompany him. Peary declined to divulge any more questions to Dr. Cook, saying the Arctic Club will soon publish the entire indictment.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Twenty-five thousand foreign sailors, marines and naval officers marched through the streets today fully armed and were cheered wildly along the entire route. The parade was a brilliant spectacle of the Hudson celebration. Gov. Hughes and Vice President Sherman reviewing it. The foreigners were cheered but the big ovation remained for the West Pointers.

BANDITS GET $10,000
FROM WESTERN BANK

With Guns Levelled at His Head Cashier Gave Up Contents of Cash Drawer.

United Press Telegram.

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Sept. 30.—Posses are still pursuing in the mountains three unmasked bandits who yesterday rode up to the Citizens National Bank here and escaped with $10,000 in cash. They entered the bank from the front and rear, leveled guns at Cashier Drach and forced him to empty the cash drawer. They put the loot in sacks, mounted their horses and disappeared.

The bandits are heavily armed and a battle is expected.

Shaughnessy Leaves Tonight.

B. J. Shaughnessy leaves tonight for Worcester, Mass., where he assumes charge of the advertising department of a large retail store in that city. He will also occupy the position of assistant manager.

Mr. Shaughnessy was with the Wright-Metzel Company here for six years as advertising manager and decorator.

FATHER BLAMES DIRECTOR FOR HIS SON LEAVING HOME.

William Whipkey of Normalville Seeks Legal Redress
From Peculiar State of Affairs in Springfield Twp.

William Whipkey of Normalville came to town this morning looking for law. Whipkey seeks redress on the part of School Director Edward Shank of Springfield township, whom he blames for causing his son to run away.

A queer mixup in the school affairs of the township develops through Whipkey's story. He says his son, Russell, aged 14, ran away from home Tuesday in company with Lyle Murray, because School Director Shank insisted that the boy remain in Room No. 1 at Normalville, where he has attended school for the past four terms. The lad wanted to go into No. 2, and it is said Principal Fred Harmon was more than willing to have him in the class, but Shank objected. On the other hand, Miss Twila Brooks, teaching room No. 1, objected to having the boy in her room again, as he had learned all he could in that class.

Whipkey saw several of the Directors regarding the matter and none of them entered any objections to the lad going into No. 2 except Shank.

Finally Shank, it is said, agreed to have the boy go to Mill Run this afternoon and take an examination before the two teachers at the school there. This did not please the lad, who had taken an eight weeks' normal course during the summer. He and Lyle Murray, who lives at the home of Isaac Prinkey, adjoining the Whipkey home, decided to run away. The last seen of them was on Tuesday, the day they left home, when Edward Shank, the School Director, says he saw them headed towards the Connelville. They were near the Blackstone place then.

The Springfield township School Board will meet tonight and Whipkey was advised to appear before the Directors and state his case. According to Whipkey, the boy was in No. 2 and making good progress, until Shank came along and berated Principal Harmon for letting him remain in the room.

Whipkey came to town this morning but could get no law. He also looked about for the boys, but could find no trace of them.

TO GET FRANCHISE AT WEST NEWTON.

West Penn Ordinance Will Pass Council There on Monday Evening Next.

MUCH RIGHT OF WAY SECURED

Between West Newton and Scott Haven—Line Will Continue From the Old River Town Through the Yukon
Valley to Hunker.

On next Monday evening the Council of West Newton will have up for second reading the ordinance giving the West Penn Railways Company a franchise for operating a line through West Newton. There is no opposition to the West Penn's ordinance and it is likely that it will be passed finally at the next reading. A great deal of the right of way for the West Penn lines has been secured and it is expected that work on the new extension from Scott Haven to West Newton connecting the lines from McKeesport to Scott Haven with West Newton will start at once.

On the completion of the West Penn lines through to West Newton, a distance of only five or six miles, the next link will be from West Newton through the rich district of Yukon connecting with the trunk lines in the Hunker valley.

The optimistic outlook is not confined to one section but includes the richest portion of Westmoreland county's untouched coal deposit in the Yukon valley through which the West Penn will lay its tracks opening up a thickly settled section The Pittsburgh, McKeesport and Westmoreland railway has already secured a franchise to operate its lines through West Newton and have secured the right of way for their lines to Homestead where they will connect with the Thompson street railway whose tracks are now laid from Irwin to Hermiston. The Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Westmoreland Company is under a $5,000 bond to have their lines completed within one year from the date of passing of ordinance but it is thought that should this be deferred West Newton's council will be lenient and wait until it is completed.

FRED JOHNSTON HAS A MASTODONIC TURNIP

Brings From Far West Vegetable Grown Where They Have Room for Such Things.

Fred Johnston of Morgan Station, a veteran blacksmith known all over the coke region, arrived home this morning from a visit to his brother in the far west. He left Morgan on the 10:25 P. M. O. train, carrying with him in the same car he rode in, a monster massive, mastodonic turnip, such as is grown out in the west where there is room for such things, weighing 17½ pounds, when it was extracted from the earth.

As turnips are composed largely of water the tip east had resulted in the turnip losing several ounces in weight, but it was still blessed with enough of size that if Mr. Johnston had brought home a basket of them, he would have had to chatter a car.

Fall tonight and Friday, cooler to night with frost, is the noon weather bulletin.

FINE SHOWING MADE MONTH OF AUGUST.

Indian Creek Valley Road
Shows Net Profit of $2,- 500 on Business.

NEW EQUIPMENT IS ORDERED

Practically Assured at Meeting of Stockholders That Road Will Be Extended Ten Miles to Jones Mills.
No Established Freight Rate.

Stockholders in the Indian Creek Valley railroad are rejoicing over the splendid showing made during August. For that month the company cleaned up a net profit of $2,500, while in all preceding months of the year the company was able to declare a profit on all business transacted. During August the passenger traffic was excellent adding to the profits made from hauling lumber and supplies over the little road.

With the announcement of earnings made at a recent meeting of the stockholders it was practically assured that the road would be extended to Jones Mills, a distance of 10 miles. Work on this extension will begin in the spring and it is expected by President Chas. F. Hood that it will be completed during the coming summer.

Six additional flat cars have been purchased and a new engine has also been ordered. The projected extension means much for Connellsville. The object is to place two trains on the line, both making round trips each day, taking the passenger traffic both ways and allowing a day to patrons in either Connellsville or their mountain homes.

The officials of the railroad say that Connellsville will be greatly benefited by this arrangement. Persons as far as Donegal will find it convenient and profitable to travel to Connellsville instead of Mt. Pleasant while all the traffic that now goes to Mt. Pleasant will be diverted to Connellsville, the trip being cheaper and more convenient. At present all the farmers and mountaineers from the extreme end travel to Mt. Pleasant and thence, if they desire to come to Connellsville use the trolley cars. With the railroad at their doors they can make the trip here and spend an entire day, reaching their homes by evening. It will also give the town a better market, as much garden truck and farm products go over the ridge towards Greensburg and Mt. Pleasant.

The freight rate on the Indian Creek Valley railroad has not been permanently established as yet and this is retarding the development of the coal lands there. It appears that D. B. Zimmerman, who holds the larger number of acres in the valley, has not asked the company to make an established rate. It is probable that the Connellsville rate will obtain there, but that industrial development will be started in the spring. At present every effort is being made to develop the lumber industry and that the cut has been large during the present summer is evidenced by the large earnings of the little 12-mile railroad.

Connellsville people will have something new this year, and that is a winter resort. The management of the hotel at Killarney Park, along the Indian Creek Valley line, have decided to keep their hotel open all winter. When the big reservoir of the Mountain Water Supply Company is frozen over this will afford an ideal place for skating parties, while the snow clad hills will rival those of the summer for natural beauty.

A number of Connellsville people contemplate building cottages up the valley where they may spend their summer evenings. Burgess J. L. Evans, C. B. Lane, W. L. Wright and a number of others have the buxom idea in mind and will probably take steps in that direction next spring.

To Make a Raid.

Complaints are made of speakies, cocaine joints and other undesirable things in the East End of Uniontown and County Detective Alex. McBeth has announced that there will be a clean up.

High School Boys of Smithfield
Make a Fine Record as Firemen.

Special to The Courier.

SMITHFIELD, Sept. 30.—The boys of the Smithfield High School turned themselves into an unassuming fire company yesterday at noon and made a record run to the home of Mrs. C. A. Grannell. The house is located on the hill quite a distance away from the school. The fire ladders of the borough are kept at the school house and when the alarm was sounded yesterday the boys didn't wait for the fire company, but soon had a husky crowd of fellows off on the run for the scene of the fire.

In record time they had the ladders up and a force of juvenile firemen on the roof. The blaze, a small one, was soon extinguished. The alarm was the second one at the Grannell home within an hour. A little daughter, Gene Grannell, who was playing with matches in a clothes press on the second floor started the fire. Members of the family and neighbors put this fire out before it did much damage.

A short time later smoke was seen coming from the roof and a second alarm was turned in. Then the school boys got busy.

A BUCKET BRIGADE SAVES OHIOPILE HOUSE

Home of Mrs. Anna Glotfelty Has Narrow Escape From Flames. Fight Fire Hard.

Special to The Courier. OHIOPILE, Sept. 30.—Heroic work saved the residence of Mrs. Anna Glotfelty of Garrett street yesterday afternoon shortly after one o'clock. Mrs. Glotfelty had just begun eating her dinner, when she heard a peculiar noise in the garret above the kitchen and upon investigation she found the garret on fire. Already several neighboring families had seen smoke coming from the roof of the house and at once spread the alarm.

Mrs. Glotfelty, after discovering the fire, made an attempt to throw out the flames, which had already made good headway. She was unable to throw the water with enough force to reach the blazing ceiling. By this time men and women were flocking in from all directions carrying pails of water. By forming a bucket brigade, the fire was extinguished before it reached the larger part of the house. The whole of Garrett street was in immediate danger, owing to the vicinity of water. The fire fighters were very much praised for their good work. The damage to the building will not exceed over $50.

LUCAS' DIRE THREATS COST HIM FIVE SPOT

Said He Would Get Head Waiter at Arlington If It Took One Hundred Years.

The threats of Harry Lucas to get the head waiter at the Arlington hotel if it took 100 years to do it, cost him $5. For Harry landed in the battle and was fined by Burgess Evans this morning. Lucas took a drink or two yesterday morning and the heat of the dining room caused the spirits to go to his head. When he got an order he mixed it up so badly that the head waiter fired him on the spot.

Going home, Lucas made such dire threats that his wife called Officer George Francis to have her husband locked up. Lucas admitted having been a little angry yesterday but said he was over it now. The Burgess assessed him $5, which his wife paid. Davis Butler, a Baltimore negro, was a regular walking drug store. He had three bottles of various concoctions about him, a package of toothbrush wash, some nice letter paper and a silver watch case with a diamond in it, a "time-piece," as it were. He was given 15 minutes to hit the tin eastward. Andy Spieser of Senright landed a jag in town and was arrested by Officer George B. Burroughs. He paid $3.50.

MAY FLOAT BONDS TO DEVELOP PLANT

Officials of Dunlap-Connelville Company Now Are Working Out Such a Plan.

The Dunlap-Connelville Coke Company will not likely be sold for the present, at least. At a meeting of the stockholders of the company it was decided not to sell the plant.

An offer of $475,000 has been refused by the stockholders, practically all of whom are Connelville men. The company has not fully developed the property and it was thought best to develop the plant to its capacity. For this purpose $500,000 will be placed, probably in bonds, to complete the development. The officials of the company are working on this proposition today.

Many of the stockholders are opposed to selling the plant outright and desire to have it operated. A large outlay of money has already been made in the preliminary work of constructing a large plant and it is believed if he work can be completed by selling the earnings will be sufficient to absorb a great portion of the indebtedness and place the company on a solid and profitable basis.

FOOTBALL PRACTISE.

Of the Tinsman High School Eleven Begins.

OWENSVILLE, Sept. 29.—Football practise at Tinsman High School today consisted of two hours hard work. Three candidates reported for practise: Charles Montgomery and Theodore had the regulars and scrubs lined up for a good scrimmage. Center, guard, tackle and fullback are giving the coaches plenty of food for thought. Head Ford's only team which Thetman made next Saturday is expected to tax the eleven to its limit.

When You Want Anything advertised in our classified column The cost is a word.

PRESBYTERIAL MEETING

Of Redstone Presbytery to Be Held at Scottdale in October.

A Presbyterial meeting of the Redstone Presbytery will be held October 5, 6, and 7, in the Scottdale Presbyterian Church. The program will be in charge of the Foreign and Home Missionary Society.

The meeting will open on Tuesday evening and close with a session on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. W. O. Schoonover is a delegate from the local Home Missionary Society. A large number of local missionary workers will attend.

GAMEWELL SYSTEM ON WEST SIDE

City Electrician Putting in Alarm Boxes Today—Passing of the Old Fire Whistle.

City Electrician A. J. Buttermore is extending the Gamewell fire alarm system to the West Side today. By the end of next week the West Side residents will be afforded better fire protection than ever before. After the system is extended the fire whistle on the West Side will likely be abandoned.

Four boxes are to be located on the West Side and an additional box on this side of the river. This last box will be located at the corner of Main and Arch streets, where one has long been needed.

The four boxes on the West Side will be located at the following corners: Second and Main; Seventh and Main; Eleventh and Main and Eleventh and Lehighing avenue. This will give two boxes for the West Side, proper, one for the Hill district and one for Greenwood.

THE CHAPERONE GOES ON BOARDS TONIGHT

Better and Brighter Than Ever, It Will Appear at the Soloson.

"The Chaperone" will be presented for the second time this season this evening, this time at the Soloson theatre. Prospects for a packed house are exceptionally bright as the demand for seats has been steady since the advance sale opened.

The play was written and arranged by Miss Marie Benford, who will take part in the production this time. The play has been given a new music, brighter costumes and better scenery than on its original appearance.

There is nothing very heavy to "The Chaperone," but there is lots of comedy, more good music and catchy songs, and a galaxy of feminine beauties that is said to eclipse any other home talent production ever staged here.

SOLD NEWS STAND ON THE WEST SIDE

James Cypher Will Go To Farming in Dunbar Township—Brookvale Men New Owners.

James Conway and John Donovan of Brookvale have closed a deal with James Cypher for the West Side news stand and located on Main street. The new owners will take charge of the store tomorrow morning.

Mr. Cypher bought the store two years ago from P. A. Rogers. Some time ago Mr. Cypher purchased the Bernard O'Connor farm in Dunbar township. About November 1, he will move his family to their new home. Tomorrow Mr. Cypher, Mr. Conway and Mrs. Donovan will go to Pittsburgh to complete arrangements with the new owners.

A FINE BURLESQUE.

At the Casino When California Girls Appear.

At the Casino last night the California Girls put on the best burlesque that has been seen here this season. The house was inadequate for the staging of the performance and the curtain of scenery carried by the company was useless.

A feature of the performance was Rinnier's performing penes. The animals, well trained, made a hit. The stage was so small for the penes to do themselves justice.

MOVING POLES.

The Bell Company Making Changes on Patterson Avenue.

The Bell Telephone and the West Penn Electric companies are moving their poles on Patterson avenue in order that the property owners along that street may lay sidewalks according to the agreement reached among them.

There are a number of poles on that street, the telephone company having most of them.

AN APPEAL FILED.

From the Finding of 'Squire Frank Miller.

UNIONTOWN, Sept. 30.—Attorney F. E. Younk has filed the appeal of E. W. Wightley and Jacob Elsiey to the finding of 'Squire Frank Miller, who fined them $15 and costs for cruelty to animals.

The defendants will claim that the cruelty was no fault of theirs, but due to negligence at the stable of Joseph Mervis, where the horse was hired.

MLLE FERIKE BOROS SPLENDID ACTRESS

"The World and a Woman" Offering of Extraordinary Merit at Soloson Last Night.

It is seldom that theatre goers of Connelville are given an opportunity of witnessing a dramatic offering of so genuine merit as "The World and a Woman," the play presented by Manager Fred Robbins at the Soloson theatre last night, with Mlle Ferike Boros, the noted Hungarian emotional actress as the star. But they did not take advantage of it as they might had they fully appreciated the worth and fame of the star. However, there was a fair house, among them many countrymen of Mlle Boros.

The play is the modern society type, Phyllis Hawley, the wife has the strange gift of copying signatures perfectly, and, under the influence of an unscrupulous sister, forges a check, and around this action the play is built. The story is a natural and convincing one, and the author has drawn his characters, and constructed his scenes and climaxes with consummate skill.

Mlle Boros gave to the part of Phyllis the charm, the simplicity, and all the niceties of expression of a great artist. Possessed of a remarkable voice, pleasing stage presence, and personal magnetism, her future here in America will without doubt be a repetition of the success with which she has met abroad during the past several seasons. J. Frank Burke played William, the husband, in an entirely competent manner; the detective was given an excellent portrayal by Julian Noa; Ann Singleton was the dominant, sneering sister, and Fred Cummings did Frank, Phyllis' school day chum, with good effect.

A New Solicitor.

Cleveland Carnes, who played shortstop on the Uniontown baseball team, is a new solicitor for Feather & Dunn, whose office are located in the Title & Trust building.

SOCIAL.

Special Meeting. A special meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church was held yesterday afternoon in the church temple. It was well attended and opened with devotional exercises conducted by the president, Mrs. William Robbins. A report was made by Mrs. Robbins, that quite a neat little sum had been realized from the corn supper held recently in the church.

A committee composed of Mrs. S. M. Frost, Mrs. William Robbins and Mrs. G. E. Albrecht was appointed to look after the serving of food at the church social to be held on Saturday evening. For some time past it has been the custom of the society to serve during the period following the church social.

For Your Appearance Sake

Wear The New Nobutton Vest

The Demand for "Nobutton" Is Reaching a Craze

From New York to Frisco, from Mexico to Canada, Nobutton Vest is a hit with women of taste and refinement.

By the side of the dainty whiteness and softness of Nobutton with its beautiful silklike edgings, its becoming little bow at the neck, and its absence of buttons, the open front kind are almost clumsy by contrast.

Nobutton fits "like a second skin," and is the only garment elastic both ways. It cannot bind but yields with every movement of the body, is unshrinkable and continued laundering leaves it exactly "as before."

If you've seen the "Nobutton" you wear it. If you haven't you should make your tomorrow's engagements fit in with a trip to LECHE'S, you will find them there priced at 25c and 50c.

Next.

SCOTSDALE, Sept. 30.—The force of police officers to be inaugurated here by the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company, will go on duty at the Scottdale and Old Meadow plants of the company tomorrow. The members of the force were at the Borough building last evening where Burgess R. Ellis swore them in as regular officers of the Borough, and they will act in times of need at fires, or any thing of that nature or in general business with the officers of the Borough, and be subject to the instructions of Chief of Police Frank McCullough. This will add a force to Scottdale which should be of value. The new force in the mills, something that is an innovation here, will be headed by David F. Nes, who has had experience here as a special officer on numerous occasions, and who is one of the most active members of the Second Ward Hose Company. The officers will serve for two weeks on day turn and two weeks on night turn, except Nes who will be on duty on the day turn all the time. The other officers are George Zellers, Thomas J. Gillespie, Joseph Sinkulic, Reuben Gans and another officer whose name was not learned.

The Baptist Meeting.
The meeting of the Moonongahela Baptist Association in the First Baptist Church here, was along the lines named in The Courier yesterday. At the afternoon session "The Baptist Orphanage and Home Society of Western Pennsylvania," was the subject of an address given by Rev. E. A. E. Halmquist of Conneltsville. The meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society was addressed by Mrs. Harriet Newell Jones, of Philadelphia, State Secretary of the Baptist Women's Foreign Mission Society, and Miss Harriet Cooper of Philadelphia, State Secretary of the Baptist Women's Home Mission Society. At the evening session after the close of the business of the association Rev. J. S. Bromley of Galveston, preached a doctrinal sermon, using as his subject "What Is Man?"

Postoffice News.
Rural Carrier George L. Graft is back on duty on the Scottdale route after spending his vacation of two weeks. During that time John Allan Porter, the substitute carrier, covered his route. Miss Katherine Bocher, the general delivery clerk, is away on her vacation, which she will spend at Niagara Falls and other points in New York State.

Improving the Streets.
Street Commissioner E. M. Staats and a force of men have been busily engaged in the repair of the extension of Pittsburg Street to the Borough line. They have graded down the hill, opened the water tables, and covered a pipe of the Fayette County Gas Company, which was exposed and made a dangerous condition for horses being driven along there. The hollow will also be filled up in an endeavor to escape the forming of a mud road at that point.

Receiver's Sales Scheduled.
J. M. Kennel, Receiver for George Satarikos, of the Boston Candy Kitchen, at Pittsburg Street and Broadway, who has come into bankruptcy, has posted bills for a receiver's sale of the contents of the Scottdale store on October 7, while the Boston Candy Kitchen connected by Satarikos at Indiana, Pa., will be sold on October 8. The bills for the Constable's sale by Miller & Livingston have been taken down.

Voters Should Pay Taxes.
To vote at the next election Tuesday, November 2, every voter's taxes should be paid, and Saturday, October 3 is the last day to pay taxes to vote on Tuesday, November 2. Tax Collector S. B. Wadsworth, who has his office in the Borough building is receiving a good deal of this tax this week.

Thompson Sells Property.
Joseph N. Thompson, a former resident of Scottdale where he was in the contracting business for several years, and who now lives in Uniontown, has sold his property here, to L. A. Miller of Scottdale, for $3,700 and the deed has been recorded in Greensburg.

Taking His Vacation.
Charles E. O'Neil, of Everson, foreman of the rope making department of the U. S. Cast Iron Pipe & Foundry Company, is enjoying a vacation of two weeks, the most of the time being spent about home.

Marriage Was Delayed.
Although he has had the marriage license of Oliver Perry Enckle and Mary McManus, both of Stauffer, for several days, Justice of the Peace John C. Brownfield, of East Scottdale, has received notification that the marriage has been postponed for a few days on account of an accident that occurred to James McManus the father of the prospective bride.

Heavy Rainfall.
Following a beautiful clearing up of the sky last night with a warmer atmosphere prevailing, the sky again clouded up, and there was a heavy rainstorm early this morning. With it came cooler weather again, so that today there was shivering among the citizens.

Returned From Convention.
Harry J. Springer, the photographer, returned home last evening after a few days in Pittsburg, attending a meeting of the photographers. C. M. Jarrett accompanied Mr. Springer and visited Pittsburg relatives for several days.

Case Was Compromised.
The story of the police case of Joseph Lucin, a Broadway merchant, against Mr. and Mrs. Martin Coyne, of Valley station, was compromised before Justice of the Peace John C. Brownfield of East Scottdale, last evening, Coyne paying the costs in the suit.

Sells His Property.
The real estate transfer of a lot from Louis Kroner to J. W. Singer in Scottdale, for $2,300, was recorded this week at Greensburg, the transfer having been made on October 16, 1936. Mr. Singer will move to Ambridge where he goes into business.

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP SCHOOL REPORT

Supervising Principal Calls on Parents to Cooperate With Teachers This Term.

PERRYOPOLIS, Sept. 29.—The schools of the township are all doing better work than ever before under the very efficient corps of teachers which the Board employed. The attendance the past month has been very encouraging considering that Franklin township is a farming community, few boys having been detained at home to help with the fall work.

It is the wish of the Superintendent Principal that parents will co-operate with him in seeing that their children are in school regular and on time every day and that they will work in harmony with him and the teachers in encouraging home study; that parents will take time from their work to visit the schools in which their children are students and see and examine for themselves the character of the work being done. The schools are always open for inspection, and parents can assist the teachers by calling in the school room. Visitors are always welcome. Also parents are asked kindly to carefully examine the scholars' monthly reports sent out by the teacher at the close of every school month. This report shows the standing and class work of your children.

son's vibrant novel, it will be admitted that it is built of excellent material. Full of the instantly dramatic in plot and in atmosphere the book has for all these years been the reservoir of inspiration for a strong play. St. Elmo Murray is played by Mr. Willard Holcomb and the other strong part, the girl, is played by Miss Margaret Lindsay. The two form the warp and woof of the whole story. The processes that lead to their final union are indeed dramatic. She, the soft, spirituelle type that puts purity of soul above all else revolts against

SIGNS OF VICTORY UPON EVERY HAND.

Philadelphia Republicans
Will Roll Up a Big Majority.

CITY TICKET IS CERTAIN TO WIN

Attempt of So-Called "Reformers" to Get Possession of the Water Works
Has Raised an Important Issue in Philadelphia Campaign.

(Special Correspondence.)

Philadelphia, Sept. 30.—Members of the local Republican clubs who attended the convention of the State League at Altoona returned home impressed with the earnestness and ardor displayed by the rank and file of the Republican party organization throughout the state in behalf of the party's nominees.

There was great enthusiasm shown at the mass meeting when Senator Penrose in his speech declared that despite some differences and friction in Philadelphia the entire Republican ticket here would be elected by a large majority and that the candidates on the state ticket will sweep the commonwealth with a quarter of a million majority.

What the senior senator said of political conditions in the Quaker City will unquestionably be demonstrated when the election returns shall be read on the night of Nov. 2.

There has never been more activity shown by the stalwart Republicans of Philadelphia than in this contest. They realize the desperate character of the opposition and the unpopularity of the present administration. They are waging the so-called Gibbons campaign. They see the same old forces that have been arrayed against the Republican organization for the last ten years and more, with a few new allies joining their ranks in the expectation of being able to foster certain schemes which have been turned down by the Reburn administration.

One of these projects, in which capitalists are ready to invest millions of dollars, is the sale or leasing of the Philadelphia water works.

This great revenue producing plant has been regarded by a little coterie of wealthy Philadelphians as a great "melon" which they would like to cut up and divide among themselves.

When they could not get the Republican organization to father their scheme, the Republican leaders having called councils together and passed a resolution against all propositions to take the water works from control of the people, these financiers turned in with the insurgents and have since been giving support to the independent ticket headed by Gibbons for district attorney. They have the backing of the Wanamaker newspaper syndicate, which has been fighting the Republican party ever since Wanamaker was defeated in his aspirations to go to the United States senate, and they have succeeded in making quite a "racket" at least in these newspapers.

But that is as far as they will get. The people are on to their game. The great mass of Republican voters of this city will not be fooled. They know that Gibbons means Wanamakerism, and they know that the men who want to alienate the water works are behind Gibbons and are seeking to break up the Republican organization in order that they may put their nefarious schemes through councils.

The substantial business interests of the community are back of the Republican ticket, as was shown yesterday at the meeting of the Republican Business Men's association, which met in the Bellevue-Stratford and endorsed the full Republican ticket and resolved to work to insure its election.

Men who have not heretofore taken an interest in practical politics were at the meeting. Presidents of big financial institutions, heads of large industrial establishments and commercial houses and others identified with important interests were present.

Compared with the leaders of this representative gathering, many of the men at the head of the Gibbons movement look like plums.

Over one thousand prominent members of the bar have signed the endorsement of District Attorney Samuel P. Roten for re-election, and they are taking an active part in the canvass in his behalf.

Governor Stuart is heart and soul in the campaign, and he will spare no effort in favor of the whole Republican ticket. Senator Penrose has been invited to address a number of meetings.

An indication of the sentiment among the wage earners of this city in the matter will be given on the evening of Oct. 7, when Senator Penrose will be the guest of the Workingmen's Protective Tariff League of Kensington at a great reception and mass meeting. The men and women of the mill districts will then turn out by the thousands to express their appreciation of the senior senator's services in connection with the framing of the tariff bill so as to protect the interest of Pennsylvania against foreign competition.

The arrangements for the great dinner which is to be given to Senator Penrose by the manufacturers of Pennsylvania and elsewhere at the Bellevue-Stratford on Saturday, Oct. 10, are progressing favorably and it is predicted that this will be one of the most remarkable testimonials ever given to a United States senator by his constituents.

While naturally a majority of the participants will be Pennsylvaniaans, the dinner is not merely a state function. It has the sanction of the members of the National Association of Hoofery and Underwear Manufacturers, but other manufacturing interests have insisted upon being represented at the gathering.

COOK TRIUMPHS. I

Philadelphia Ladies Embrace the North Pole Hero.

Philadelphia, Sept. 30.—Dr. Cook day here began and ended in great triumph for the explorer. After receiving the committees of the board of trade and the presidents of several business associations, who invited him to dine at Atlantic City early in October, Dr. Cook went for an automobile drive in Fairmount park.

His lecture in the evening at the Academy of Music was even more successful than the first one in New York. The applause was deafening as he made his points and at the conclusion the whole house rose and cheered him. As he left the stage three ladies sprang forward and embraced him fervently.

He afterward drove through shouting crowds to his hotel, where he appeared for a few minutes before the convention of the State Medical association of Pennsylvania. He was given a hearty welcome as doctors honoring a brother physician.

CRUSHED UNDER CARS

Altoona Man Hurled Himself to Death in Spectacular Manner.

Altoona, Pa., Sept. 30.—Paul E. Singer, aged forty, a well known local character, committed suicide by throwing himself on the railroad tracks in front of moving freight cars. Singer had been drinking and was despondent.

While seated near the railroad at Seventh street he remarked to a companion that he intended to put his head under the wheels when the cars were started. A moment later the cars moved and he made his threat good before he could be prevented.

Kneels Before Passenger Train.

Toledo, O., Sept. 30.—An unknown man, well dressed and apparently about forty years old, knelt in front of a Lake Shore passenger train in the yards here and was ground to pieces. He had been seen around the yards all afternoon. His pockets contained only a handkerchief and two toothbrushes.

FLOODS IN MAINE

Heavy Rainfall Causes Much Destruction to Property.

Portland, Me., Sept. 30.—One of the worst floods in the history of northern and eastern Maine and western New Brunswick, resulting from the heavy rainfall of the last few days, has already caused great damage in Aroostook, Penobscot, Piscataquis, Somerset and Washington counties in this state.

At many points the swollen rivers continued to rise and cause further destruction. Washburn on railroad lines have interfered greatly with traffic and in some sections trains are at a standstill and a number of cities and towns are cut off from rail communication. One death has been reported due to the flood, that of Charles F. Keefe, a Bangor and Aroostook railroad engineer, who was caught under his engine when his train was derailed by a washout near West Sebeka.

HIDDEN WEALTH LOST

Paper Money Destroyed by Heat When House Burns.

Butler, Pa., Sept. 30.—To save $2,000 hoarded money from the flames when the house of Frank Hunter, Sr., was destroyed, near Bakerstown, Clarence Ferguson and Gerwood Stewart entered a lower room after the floors began to give way.

They found the box containing the money, which Hunter had hidden in the chimney, and managed to make their way out through the flames and dense smoke. Both were overcome but not seriously burned. Paper money in the box had been destroyed by the intense heat and the gold coin had started to melt. It contained $1,000 in gold. It is known that $1,000 in currency hidden in the house was lost and it is generally believed much more money was hidden about the place.

COMMENDABLE, INDEED

But Uncle Sam Pays No Bounty to Parents of Large Families.

Washington, Sept. 30.—However commendable it may be to be the mother of ten sons, Uncle Sam does not give bounties to those who possess such large families. A unique case in point was that of Mrs. Louisa Compton of Pineville, La., who in a letter to the war department proudly boasted of the size of her family and asked if she was not entitled to a bounty in consequence thereof.

Although declaring that Mrs. Compton is to be commended, the department in a letter to her stated that the government cannot pay her a bounty.

Ex-Gov. Miles B. McSwenney Dies. Columbia, S. C., Sept. 30.—Miles B. McSwenney, former governor of South Carolina, died in a private sanitarium in Baltimore.

A Safe Proposition. I lay it down as a safe proposition that the fellow who every little while has to break into the baby's bank for a few cents isn't going to evolve into a Baron Rothschild.—Philip D. Armour.

RIVALRY BETWEEN AVIATORS

Wright Circles Statue of Liberty Which is Taken as a Challenge to Curtiss and Spectacular Stunts May Result.

New York, Sept. 30.—Wilbur Wright circled the great Statue of Liberty at the entrance of New York harbor in his aeroplane, while in the upper part of the city two huge dirigible balloons failed ignominiously in their task. This, the first day of flight of the Hudson-Fulton celebration, was a victory for the heavier-than-air machine.

Both Wright and Glenn H. Curtiss soared successfully from the aerodrome of Governor's island in their motor-propelled biplanes; both great dirigibles, manned, respectively, by Captain Thomas Baldwin and George L. Tompkins and entered in the New York-to-Albany race, were forced to descend because of mechanical difficulties before they were well under way. Wilbur Wright made three sensational flights and Curtiss made one brief though successful trip of thirty seconds' duration.

Baldwin with his dirigible landed in the Hudson river less than an hour after the start, while Tompkins came to earth near White Plains, N. Y., twenty-two miles from his starting point. Neither of the dirigible pilots was injured nor was either craft seriously damaged.

Curtiss in Brief Flight. Curtiss was the first to leave the earth and at a time when dawn had hardly broken, but only for a brief flight.

Two hours later Wright made his first ascent, encircling Governor's island and remaining in the air for seven minutes. After an hour's rest Wright again went aloft, this time remaining in the air for six minutes and thirty seconds, attaining a speed estimated at fifty miles an hour and with a glorious sweep out over the bay, passing entirely around the great emblem of liberty on Bedloe's island to the northwest.

Not content with these spectacular feats Wright made a third flight before a crowd of 2,000 persons, who by that time had assembled on the island, attracted by the news of his earlier ascents. Yachts, excursion boats and various craft had gathered on both side of the bay, which is being used as the aviation field, and they looked their whistles noisily as his machine rose from the ground for the last flight of the day. He did not attempt to fly over the water nor did he go to any great height, but executed two complete circles in the air then made an excellent landing, while the crowd, including his rival, Curtiss, commented on the ease with which he manipulated his craft.

In all three of his flights the Wright machine showed greater speed than that of Curtiss, but the Curtiss fleet seemed to keep its equilibrium better and remained on an even keel.

Rivalry Between Aviators.

Wright's action in circling the Statue of Liberty is taken as a challenge to Curtiss, for Curtiss, it will be recalled, was the first to sensation such a flight. From now on it is expected that the two aviators will strive to outdo the other, although neither will do anything reckless.

The start of the dirigible balloon race to Albany was considerable of a fiasco, but it is announced that the balloons will be made ready for another attempt at the first opportunity.

A puff of wind snapped one of Baldwin's rudder ropes and he was forced to begin his descent on the water. The balloon came down easily. Captain Baldwin threw out dragnets and sailors from the battleship Rhode Island New Jersey and North Carolina, who saw his plight, swarmed to his rescue in launches. They seized the dragnets and managed to bring up the balloon so that only the motor was wet. Baldwin swung himself into a boat without getting wet. A gang of sailors then pushed the big bag ashore, where it was loaded in a wagon and returned to the starting point. Baldwin's maximum height was 800 feet.

SETTLEMENT IN SIGHT

Cleveland's Long Traction War is Nearly Ended.

Cleveland, Sept. 30.—Settlement of the street car war, which has waged here for the last eight years, seems nearer than it has at any time since the city and street railways officials began fighting.

The council committee of the whole decided to permit United States District Judge Taylor to act as final arbitrator in the question of valuation and maximum fare. The decision followed a conference between Mayor Tom L. Johnson and the Democratic members of the council in the mayor's private office. Following the decision of Judge Taylor on the two questions the matter will be submitted to the people for a vote. A special election will be held, as it is now too late to vote on the question at the regular election.

ENVOYS AT BANQUET.

Official Guests of the Hudson-Fulton Commission.

New York, Sept. 30.—The vice president of the United States and the governor of New York, personal representatives of the emperors of Germany and Japan, the diplomatic representatives of twenty-five nations and the special delegates of twenty-eight sat down to table last night in the great banquet hall of the Hotel Astor as the official guests of the Hudson-Fulton celebration, commissioners. There were in addition the officers of eight navies and the admirals.

ADMIRAL VON KOENIG,
Germany's Official Representative at Hudson-Fulton Celebration.

of four, a representative of the senate in the person of Elihu Root, members of the New York state legislature and officers of the municipality of New York. It was one of the most brilliant banquets ever held.

Mayor McClelland, looking about him on the cosmopolitan character of the banquet hall, said:

"Every gathering such as this helps to a better understanding among the peoples of the earth."

The speeches of Admiral von Koenig and Seymour had been awaited with much interest in view of the recent utterances in this country of Lord Northcliffe on the possibility of war between Germany and Great Britain, but after complimenting the American navy both breathed only words of peace.

AUTO RACER KILLED

Death and New Speed Records at Long Island Derby.

Riverhead, L. I., Sept. 30.—The smashing of every existing American record for automobile racing on the open road and a spill which cost the life of Mechanician James Bates and serious injuries to another, Herbert Lytle, a well known racing driver, marked the running of the Long Island automobile derby.

The casualties were caused by the skidding of the Alcoa car, driven by Lytle, as it started on a hard bend in the road. Lytle and Mechanician Bates had completed less than two-thirds of the first lap when the sixty horsepower machine, tearing down a slight declivity at a rate of sixty-five miles an hour, suddenly lurched to one side into deep sand and overturned.

Auto Causes Two More Deaths. New York, Sept. 30.—Felix Norton, owner of the Alcoa car, and Edward Baker, president operator of the Alcoa garage, were instantly killed in an automobile accident near Mineola, L. I.

"Lucky" Seward is Unlucky.

Wollston, O., Sept. 30.—A rear-end collision occurred on the Baltimore and Ohio near Dundas, resulting in the death of brakeman "Lucky" Seward of Chillicothe, who had secured that sobriquet because of his many miraculous escapes in wrecks. Five cars were reduced to fragments.

Chicago Grain Market.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—An official estimate showing a larger acreage of wheat in Argentina than had been generally conceded had a depressing effect on the wheat market here today and offset the effect of the congested conditions in the September delivery. Prices at the close were 14¢ higher to 14¢ lower. Corn was exceedingly weak and closed at net losses of 1½¢ to 1½¢. Oats were irregular, the September delivery advancing more than 20¢ and deferred months declining 10¢. Provisions were weak. September options closed: Wheat, $1.06; corn, 55¢; oats, 45¢.

MOROCCAN WAR COMES TO END.

Spain Rejoices Over Success of Their Arms.

MOORS COMPLETELY ROUTED

General Marina's Skillfully Planned Operations Are Subject of Great Praise and the Maura Government Is Expected to Be Strengthened.

Madrid, Sept. 30.—Madrid is besieged and illuminated in celebration of the success of the Spanish arms in Africa, which were crowned by the occupation of Mount Guruga, the Moorish stronghold. Crowds fill the Puerta del Sol and the surrounding streets acclaiming the news which makes a glorious ending of the war and the early return of the troops. General Marina's skillfully planned operations are the subject of much praise. After the reverse of July 27 and the subsequent losses suffered General Marina decided that it would be useless waste of life to proceed on a small scale in the operations, and that the Moors, who had been making raids from the rocky fastnesses of Mount Guruga, must be dislodged or outflanked.

Accordingly he withdrew his advanced post and waited until he had concentrated 60,000 men and sixty-eight cannon, which were divided into two columns. Both operations were successful and the tribesmen were completely routed.

What has become of the main body of the Moors is not clear. Official circles, however, seem convinced that the Moors are thoroughly discouraged and the successful wind up of the campaign is expected to arouse a wave of patriotic enthusiasm, which will greatly strengthen the Maura government, whose enemies counted upon a protracted struggle, with perhaps serious reverses and possibly complete failure.

Great Rejoicing at Melilla.

Melilla, Sept. 30.—Melilla is given over to the wildest rejoicing at the successful end of the war. The houses are all illuminated and draped with Spanish colors.

JAIL AGAIN FOR MORSE

Lawyers Searching For Legal Loophole to Keep Him Free.

New York, Sept. 30.—Unless some legal loophole is discovered Charles W. Morse, the convicted financier, will have to go back to the Tombs owing to a lapse of two days between the expiration on Oct. 9 of his bail bond of $25,000 and the calling of his case before the United States circuit court of appeals on Oct. 11.

Mr. Morse and his lawyers spent most of the day in the federal building in an effort to have his bail extended. It was said, however, that only the United States court of appeals could grant such a request and that court does not meet until Oct. 11.

NOW ON STRIKE.

Millions of Stomachs Refuse To Do Their Work Properly.

All over this broad land millions of stomach owners are being held in humiliating subjection just because they are so stubborn that they will not accept a fair, square and broad minded offer.

Life is short for all of us; it will be shorter for those who let their stomachs go from bad to worse.

A. A. Clarke has a famous prescription called Mi-o-na and he believes so thoroughly in its remarkable curative power that he says to every owner of a distressed stomach that he will guarantee Mi-o-na tablets to cure acute or chronic indigestion and all stomach ailments or money back and the price is only 50 cents a box.

And still there are stubborn people right in Connelville who want, accept this offer but continue to suffer from gas on stomach, belching of sour food, stomach pains, foul breath, dizziness, biliousness and headaches just because—just because—that's all, there is no other reason.

Mi-o-na tablets stops dyspeptic agony in five minutes; they cure obstinacy cases of indigestion and turn the old stomach into a new one in a few weeks—or money back.

OVENS ON THE "SHELF"

Tightening Up on the Prices Has Caused Considerable Comment Upon the Adequacy of the Coke Region to Furnish Supply.

The adequacy of the Connelville coke region has been the subject of widespread comment during the past few weeks among the trade journals of the United States. The American iron and steel industry has been looking to the coke region for a long time, and the question of its adequacy has been a matter of considerable interest.

Under the above caption we noted the serious question which has been raised as to whether the coke region of the Connelville is likely to prove equal to the coke demand in the coming winter and spring, and printed a table compiled by us from the weekly reports of the Connelville Courier, showing its view as to the number of ovens in blast and weekly production, from the beginning of 1907 to date, as well as the number of ovens it reported as in existence on the quarterly dates.

The chief question is whether the coke region is in existence can be counted upon for full production, if so, there will be no scarcity. If, on the other hand, the present output represents the best the region can do there is going to be a shortage.

Later we shall discuss the increase which has occurred in demand through the building of new blast furnaces. Here we present some notes on coke capacity.

The first blast of 1907 is a good standard as to output. The year opened with furnace coke selling well above $2, while in the second quarter the price hovered around $3, dropping to below $3 for the second half. Doubtless the coke demand was heavy, but they could. The average of the Courier reports for the first 26 weeks of the year showed 12,000 tons in blast and 41,000 tons produced weekly, or 12,500 tons per oven. A fair estimate of an oven's output is 4 1/2 tons, three charges a week or 12 1/2 tons. Allowing for contingencies, 12,500 tons is undoubtedly a good average for actual performance. The number of ovens in existence the middle of 1907 was 1,214, and the average in existence over the half year, was about 1,200, so that an average of 2,000 was idle.

The coke region is a large number of ovens are reported now, which are really not in the running; that their coal is exhausted and that they are kept in operation on shipped coal when fancy prices prevail. A gentleman thoroughly familiar with the region advises us that a recent survey tallied as many 1,200 ovens thus situated and calls the number not over 1,500, to cover which we would have to add 1,000 ovens from the reckoning, but we have seen 2,000 ovens, or one-third more, idle in the first half of 1907, presumably on that account. The point does not seem to be well taken. There is no increase shown in the ovens on the shelf.

Now let us take the last three Courier reports for the three weeks ending September 11th. They show an average of 32,444 ovens in blast, an average production of 207,717 tons, or 12 1/2 tons per oven, and average shipments of 13,444 cars per week. We are not following the Courier statistics slavishly, but they are the best available, and with judgment they can be checked. The figures are better than the estimates of oven production, can be taken as fairly accurate, and the comparison accurate railroad statistics have shown that in 1907 the average output of Connelville coke was 27 1/2 tons, and in 1908 29 tons. Applying this to the 13,444 cars we have 376,000 tons per week, and applying 20 tons we have 18,800 tons. The Courier reports 12,500 tons.

Now apply the 12 1/2 tons per oven per week to the 32,444 ovens reported in blast and one obtains 405,000 tons. The comparison by our figures shows an increase of 20,000 tons per week less than reported, but possibly the average current has increased enough to make up a larger part of that. The comparison with oven production in the first half of 1907, with everything conducive to good output, shows a 5,000 ton increase reported. Both methods of comparison show The Courier reports to err, if at all, on the side of reporting more coke made than actually was made. They show The Courier to be as correct as the trade has a right to expect them to be in the circumstances.

Outside of the above, we know that many of the Connelville operations are running short handed, that they are not making coke as fast as they could make it if they had enough men.

With all this evidence there can be no denying that in the past few weeks the coke region has, rather than more, than 400,000 tons a week; (2) that the same number of ovens could have made more coke than they did, had they enough labor; (3) that the coke was made with only about 22,000 ovens.

Granting this, we have it that there are reported as in existence 30,000 ovens. If a large number are really on the shelf, which need are they, and how many are there? The estimate we had was 1,000 deducting 2,000 instead, we have 28,000 ovens.

With a full labor supply we have, as we believe, about the 32,500 ovens could make more coke, and that we have 1,000 ovens more, at the least. There 400 ovens, if properly manned, ought to make 50,000 tons a week. The 32,500 ovens are properly manned, ought to make more than they have been making, say at a rough guess 25,000 tons, probably more than that, rather than less.

Here we have 75,000 tons, probably more, which could be added to the weekly supply, with an adequate labor supply. We must not, however, make marks to make on this head. After that we shall have some remarks to make on the increase in demand, chiefly through the building of new blast furnaces since the early part of 1907, but meanwhile we wish to point out that the best furnaces are already running and the coke trade has experienced most of that strain already. It may be said the coke market has advanced more than a dollar a ton, but was that due to straining the coke making capacity, or straining the coke supply of some of the coke operators,

REINFORCED FRAME WORK.

Brier Hill Superintendent Has Original Idea.

Much interest has been aroused among coke works managers by the successful completion of the first portion of a job of concreting at the tipple of the Brier Hill Coke Company. General Manager Thomas McCaffrey of this company, instead of rebuilding a part of the tipple at the main shaft, conceived the idea of enforcing the heavy steel framework by making it the nucleus of a concrete structure. This was done by building molds about the steelwork and pouring in the concrete, making solid walls in the shaft from the ground upwards to a distance of about 80 feet, within five feet or so of the bull wheels. Mr. McCaffrey says he will concrete the balance of his steel framework on the tipple, making a job that will last as long as the plant lives.

His idea is that to reinforce steel work of this character, the work should be done while the steel frame is still in good condition and this has been done at Brier Hill. Pumps from the shaft and the oven attack work of this sort about coke plants and render its life less by reason of the destructive character of the smoke in contact with the metal.

Many managers of other plants who have heard of the job are going to Brier Hill to see the work, which is an innovation in the region. The idea will likely be copied at some other plants where steel work has deteriorated from the same causes.

Mr. McCaffrey reports that his average output per oven for September is rising in spite of a low average early in the month. The Brier Hill plant is one of the most popular in the region among miners as every precaution is taken by the management to insure safety by heavy timbering and other means, in which cost is never considered ahead of safety.

FAVORS CLOSER RELATION

Vanderlip Urges Farmers and Bankers to Co-Operate.

New York, Sept. 30.—Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City bank, and several other prominent New Yorkers were guests at B. F. Yoakum's Long Island country place with the nine western farmers, who, as members of the Yoakum "Good Roads Party," have just completed a tour of inspection of roads and roadmaking in the eastern states. Mr. Vanderlip discussed the need of a closer cooperation between the farmer and the banker and especially favorably of the proposed establishment of a warehouse system whereby the farmer would be enabled to obtain money on his crops as soon as they are ready for the market.

"A bank," he said, "has no better use than the loaning of money upon raw material in transportation to the manufacturer or consumer. But we have got to have absolute security and the banker, a long way from the field where the goods are produced, where the grain is grown or the cotton produced, must have assurances that the goods are intrinsically what they are represented to be before he can help the producer by leading money thereon."

JUSTIFIES HIS ACTION

General Grant Says He Heeded No Temperance Parade in Chicago.

Washington, Sept. 30.—General Frederick D. Grant, commanding the department of the lakes, and Secretary of War Jacob M. Dickinson, discussed informally at the war department the criticism which has been directed at the former because he appeared in the uniform of his rank at the head of a so-called temperance parade in Chicago last Saturday.

General Grant had justified his action in appearing in the parade on the ground that it was a demonstration in favor of good government and was not a temperance parade. Inasmuch as no orders were issued to General Grant to march in the parade Secretary Dickinson holds the opinion that the former's presence therein cannot be regarded as an official action or as giving the government's stamp of approval.

BRANDY GOES TOO QUICK

Ammonia Substituted on Ambulances by Chicago's Chief of Police.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—An order said to be burdened with woe to certain city employees was issued by Chief of Police Steward, decreeing that henceforth ambulances and patrol wagons shall carry spirits of ammonia for reviving victims of accidents instead of brandy.

"The brandy will last longer than the ammonia," explained Chief Steward, with the flicker of a smile. "The brandy is sometimes gone by the time an ambulance crew reaches its destination. Also ammonia is cheaper and just as effective."

Secretary James Wilson Will Retire.

Washington, Sept. 30.—James Wilson, who has been secretary of agriculture since March 4, 1897, a longer period of service than any other cabinet officer in history served, is expected to step out about Jan. 1.

Man Leaps Into Niagara.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 30.—An unknown man about thirty-five years old jumped from the upper steel arch bridge into the Niagara and was drowned. The body appeared on the surface for an instant and then was lost to view.

CHAPTER XVI.

KITTY DROPS A BOMB.

"WHAT'S the matter, Jack? Whenever you smoke your cigar here-out you read a newspaper by starting over the top of it. You leave your watch under the pillow and have to bike back for it. You are absent-minded. Now, what's the matter?"

Hillard sighed heavily. "There you go again!" laughed Merrithew. "You tack that sign to everything you say."

Hillard was human. He might be deeply in love, but this had not destroyed his healthy sense of humor, so he laughed at himself.

"It's a curious business—the dinner, the mask, the veil, the mystery," went on Merrithew. "I tell you frankly, Jack, something's wrong, and we shall both live to find it out."

"But what? Heaven on earth, what? Haven't I tried to figure it out till my brain aches? I haven't gone forward a single inch."

"Nothing. What's we have seen Florence well drop down to Perugia and Rome, then up to the Italian lakes, after that home if you say."

Hillard looked at his watch. "Only 9," he said. "Let's go over to Gambetta's and hear the music."

The Hotel Italia was but a few blocks from the Piazza Vittorio Emanuele. They found the Halle crowded, noisy and interesting. From the Halle they went downstairs and through the Billiard room. Under the arcade they found a small table. Presently two officers, one in the splendid uniform of a colonel, went past. Hillard's pulse was tuned to a quicker stroke.

"I hope he doesn't see us," he said, slipping his Panama over his eyes. "So long as he doesn't observe us," said Hillard. "I have no interest in his affairs." Had he none? he wondered.

"He is coming this way again, Dan," Hillard changed his mind. He pushed back his hat. If the man with the near saw him and spoke he would reply. The colonel, glancing at the pair, halted. He turned and spoke to his brother officer. The man with the near stepped over to the table and leaned with his hands upon it. There was a savage humor in his dark eyes.

"Did I not tell you that we should meet again?" he said to Hillard. "Are you speaking to me?" asked Hillard. Every muscle in his body was alert and ready.

"Certainly I am speaking to you. This is the fellow," speaking to his companion, at the same time drawing off his gloves.

"I object to the word 'fellow,'" said Hillard. "Besides, I don't know you."

"An disrespect!" sneered the man with the near. "Colonel!" cried the subaltern as his senior smoothed the gloves and placed them carefully in his left hand.

"Oh, I am colonel. But I have been dreaming of this moment. Now!" The colonel reddened. Hillard. "You meddled with an affair that night in which you had no concern."

"Are you quite sure?" "Yes, I am sure. And yet as I think it over, as I recollect the woman," went on the colonel, with a smile which was evil and insinuating. "In Monte Carlo I was practically alone. Here it is Florence. Doubtless you will understand." He struck out with the gloves.

But they never touched Hillard's face. His hand caught the assassin's wrist and with a quick lock brought him halfway across the table. The Italian cried faintly. Hillard spoke tensely:

"Listen carefully, signor. I understand perfectly, but I shall fight no duel. It is an obsolete fashion. A blackguard I know you to be. If you ever address me again I promise to give you a whipping which will have a lasting effect upon your future actions. If that will not serve I shall appeal to the police."

Through the crowd the ever present carabinieri shouldered their way. The colonel motioned them to stand back, which they did with a sign of respect. This sign gave Hillard some food for thought. His antagonist was evidently a personage of some importance.

"Figure of an American pig!" Hillard laughed. The score was laid on the Italian's check. His companion held a restraining hand on his arm. He nodded, and the two made off. Merrithew was going back to the hotel. Hillard agreed.

"I wanted you to give him a good stiff punch," said Merrithew. "We should have slept in the lockup overnight if I had. If our friend is left handed he'll be inconvenienced for a day or two. I put some force into that grip. You see, Dan, the Italian still fights his duels. It would have been a fine joke if I had been fool enough to accept his challenge. He would have put daylight through me at the first stroke."

"Did you mean how respectful the carabinieri were?" "It set me thinking. Oh, I've a premonition that we haven't seen the last of this distinguished gentleman."

After luncheon the next day they were entering the Via Tornabuoni when a young woman came out of a little millinery shop. Immediately Hillard stepped to one side of her and Merrithew to the other.

"You cannot run away this time, Kitty Killigrew!" cried Merrithew joyously.

In the Villa Ariadne the wonderful fountain by Donatello was encircled by a deep basin in which many generations of golden fish swam about. Forming a kind of triangle about the basin were three ancient marble benches such as the amiable old Roman senators were wont to lounge upon during the heat of the afternoon. A maiden sat on one of these benches, her arms thrown out on either side of the crumbling back, her chin lowered and her eyes thoughtful.

Merrithew stole up from behind with all the ease of a practiced hunter. Then he put his hands over her eyes. She struggled for a brief moment, then desisted.

"It is so puerile at all," she declared. "I can smell horse, horse and again horse. Mr. Merrithew!"

"Yes, I should have fetched along a sachet powder. I remember but one thing, Kitty, and that's you." He sat down beside her. "There's no doubt that I reek of the animal. But the real question is, how much longer are you going to keep me dangling on the string? I've been coming up here for ten days now."

She had dressed expressly for this moment, but Merrithew was not going to be told so.

"But am I to be blamed if, after having refused twice to marry you, you still persist?" Kitty assumed a judicial air.

"But you haven't refused me this time."

"Because I wish to make it as easy as possible for you," which of the two meanings she offered him was lost upon Merrithew.

"Come, let us be sensible for ten minutes."

Merrithew laid his watch on the bench beside him. Kitty laughed rolickingly, for beneath her furbelows and ribbons and trinkets she was inordinately happy and light of heart. Her letter had come. She was only waiting for the day of sailing.

Merrithew reached out and caught her hand.

"Oh, I said let us be sensible for ten minutes!" she murmured.

"Kitty, will you marry me?" "Could you take care of me?" "I'll work."

"Oh, if you were only rich!" "You don't mean that, Kitty."

"No," rejecting. "I don't. But you bother me."

"All right. This will be the last time. Will you marry me? I will do all a man can to make you happy. I love you with all my heart. I know, you're afraid. You're an idea that I am sick. But not this time, Kitty; not this time. Will you?"

Then without further hesitations, in a flash, he had her in his arms.

"Is it dishonorable for me to love you?" "You are sure of this friend of yours, the princess?" "Certainly," answered La Signorina, her astonishment increasing.

"She gave you the right authority?" "Absolutely," more and more astonished.

canton and its bundle of pink roses. Hillard extended his cup for a second filling. La Signorina vaguely wondered where Kitty was. She needed Kitty at this moment.

How inexplicable were the currents and cross currents of life! She had met a thousand men handsome, more brilliant. They had not awakened more than normal interest. And yet this man, quiet, humorous, ordinarily good looking, aroused in her heart discord and penetrated the barriers to the guarded sentiment. Why? Always this query.

She gathered up a handful of the roses and pressed them against her face, breathing deeply.

"If I were a poet, which I am not,"—He paused irresolutely.

"You would extemporize on the beauty of the perspective," she supplied. "How the?"

"I was thinking of your hair," he interrupted. "I have never seen anything quite like it."

She had recourse to the roses again. "You have not told me the real reason why you sang under my window that night."

"Have I not? Well, then, there can be no harm in telling you that. I had just signed the contract to sing with the American Comic Opera company in Europe. I saw the world at my feet, for it would be false modesty to deny that I have a voice. More disillusion. The world is not at my feet," lightly.

"Will you answer a single question?" "I will make no promise."

"To whom another man?" Silence, which grew and lengthened. "What do you mean?" she asked evenly.

"In Venice you told me that there was a barrier. I ask now if this barrier be a man."

"Yes."

A wrinkle of pain passed over his heart. "If you love him—"

"Love him! No, no! I had hoped you would not speak like this. I relied upon your honor."

"Is it dishonorable for me to love you?" "No, but it is for me—to permit you to say so."

He was pale, but not paler than she. "I offer you nothing, Mr. Hillard, nothing but promise, hope, nothing. A few days longer and we shall separate finally."

Merrithew and Kitty came into view. "It is all over," said Merrithew excitedly. "Kitty has promised to marry me as soon as we land in America."

La Signorina took hold of Kitty's hands. "Is it true, Kitty?" "Yes, m'am," Kitty answered, with a stage courtesy. "I have promised to marry him, for there seemed no other way of getting rid of him."

This caused real alarm. La Signorina relighted the tea lamp, and presently they were all talking together.

They laughed quietly as they saw O'Malley gravely conducting his charge, to the gates. He returned with Smith. Both were solemn visaged.

"Well, noble conqueror?" inquired La Signorina. "Why, you look as if you were the bearer of ill tidings."

"What has happened?" asked Merrithew.

"Enough," said O'Malley laconically. He directed his next words to La Signorina.

There Is a Great Rush at Union Supply Company Stores.

The attractive new Autumn Styles for Women and Misses are creating a big rush of business. The extensive varieties in the Dry Goods Departments and the very reasonable prices are pleasing lots of Women and Children and already making it necessary for us to duplicate some lines. The better time to buy Fall goods is early in the season when the stocks are full and the varieties unbroken. According to the rush we are having now it is very evident that our customers mostly think that way.

There are some very sensible styles in Women's Shoes just opened up for Fall and Winter wear, made expressly to our order. Be sure and see them before you buy.

FLAMES THREATEN TOWN

Dynamite Used to Save Black Lick, Pa., a Mining Settlement.

Black Lick, Pa., Sept. 30.—Fire resulting from a lamp explosion licked up the greater portion of this mining town, one of the busiest in Indiana county. The entire town turned out to fight the flames, but they gained such great headway that dynamite had to be used to blow up buildings to keep the flames from spreading.

Seven buildings were totally destroyed, almost twice that number damaged, many families were made homeless and the loss will reach $35,000. Many of the people living in the burned area had narrow escapes from injury.

TAFT REACHES PACIFIC COAST.

Met at Seattle by a Throng of Cheering Citizens.

HE VISITS EXPOSITION TODAY

President is Guest at Reception Given by Mrs. Ballinger, Wife of Secretary of the Interior. He Will Speak at Banquet at Exposition Grounds.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 30.—President Taft reached the Pacific coast last night, just two weeks after his start from Boston. He will leave Seattle for Tacoma tomorrow and will leave that city at midnight, going south until Los Angeles is reached. Then comes the turn to the east.

The president and his party were met at the Union station on their arrival by a reception committee of two dozen members. The space in the station through which the president and his escort passed was roped off and a large body of police kept back the crowd.

The visitors and the reception committee entered automobiles and, preceded by a troop of mounted police, proceeded to the Kaiser club, where a reception in honor of the president was given by Mrs. Richard A. Ballinger, wife of the secretary of the interior.

A great throng of people waited for the president at the station and along the brilliantly lighted streets through which he passed and there was cheering at every stop of the way. The visit to the Alaska Yukon Pacific exposition was begun today. After luncheon he will make an address in the natural amphitheater. The president also will speak at a banquet at the exposition grounds this evening.

MEETS OLD SWEETHEART

President Taft Mentions Incident in Speech at North Yakima, Wash. North Yakima, Wash., Sept. 30.—President Taft met an old sweetheart here and proudly boasted of the fact during his address at the courthouse, although he did not mention her name. He alluded to the fact as another bond between himself and the citizens of this region. The president referred to Mrs. Betty Hodges, formerly Miss Betty Evans of Cincinnati. The president in his speech here dwelt upon how impressively the homogeneity of the American people had been brought home to him during his tour of the country. "We all wear the same clothes, even to the latest fashions in the bouquets of the ladies," he said, "we all speak the same language and have the same ideas and aspirations. One of the things that strikes me going around the country is the exactly similar attitude the people all occupy toward the questions that affect them in the same way—not toward the same question but toward these issues toward which they have the same relation."

Hair Tonic Slaves

Thousands of people are hair tonic slaves. They buy cheap, ordinary hair tonics for falling hair, dandruff and itching scalp. The stuff gives them relief—temporarily. But it doesn't cure. They use it until they stop these tonics their scalp troubles come back worse than ever. So it is necessary to buy bottle after bottle. Don't be a hair tonic slave. Carbo-Magno really cures scalp disorders. It stops falling hair, and stops it for good. It cures dandruff in a few applications, and it stops itching scalp. More than that it grows new hair, as thousands can testify. At first eight Carbo-Magno appears expensive. But it is cheap when one considers that a bottle lasts from six months to a year, at a cost of $2.00. In the same time, many people spend from $5.00 to $10.00 for cheap hair tonics at drug stores. The hat sweat with each bottle, is worn by men in the hat to hurry results. The Carbo-Magno solution evaporates from it, filling the air that circulates over the scalp with the powerful Carbo-Magno essence. Carbo-Magno has cured hundreds right here in Pittsburgh, and it will cure you. If suffering from falling hair, dandruff or itchy scalp, buy a bottle of Carbo-Magno at once. Price $2.00. We will send Carbo-Magno on receipt of price, or it may be secured at Barker's Pharmacy, 120 South Pittsburgh street, and leading drug stores everywhere. Send to us for our valuable booklet.

KOBACKER'S Are Ready for Business.

Watch Papers for Grand Opening.

The unavoidable delay in receiving some of our fixtures has delayed our formal opening until a later date than The New Store expected, but our goods are all in and many of the old Kobacker friends, anxious to do their dealing with us, have decided to open our store informally. This will give the people of Connellsville an opportunity to get values on Cloaks and Millinery such as you never got before. Our successful experience in operating one of the largest and fastest growing stores in Westmoreland county and our large buying power has been of great value to us in selecting our lines.

For months our buyers searched the eastern markets, every manufacturer of any note displayed his line for our inspection. Those that opened to our entire satisfaction in regards to quality price were selected and those that did not were passed on and now we believe as you will when you see it that we have gathered lines of Cloaks, Suits and Millinery at the most popular prices ever presented to you. We are after your valued patronage and are starting right out for it.

For Friday and Saturday

$15.75 For Suits Valued at $22.50

Over 12 styles to select from—every material favored by fashion is represented, broadcloth, chiffon broadcloth, chevrons, worsteds, mannish suitings, serges, tweeds, homespun, diagonals, two-tone effects, almost every shade you could wish to see is included; navy blue, ashes of roses, green, electric blue, plum, under, artichoke, mustard, nutmeg, taupe, grey, smoke, walnut and raisin. Let these grand values teach you a lesson now and hereafter that Kobacker's will be the home of the best suit values at popular prices in this city.

$5.00 for Beautiful Hats Worth $7.50

We are determined to get the big share of the $5 Hats sold in Connellsville and have spared no time labor in placing on sale for Friday and Saturday hats that possess all the beauty and charm of high priced models. This collection represents the products of ten eastern high class millinery houses, together with many artistic models created in our own workrooms. Above is a reproduction of one of the many beautiful styles that are selling Friday and Saturday at this price. Where all cars make their main stop.
